

Antique Writing Desk, English, Rosewood, Study, Side, Table, Regency, Circa 1820

DESCRIPTION

Our Stock # 18.6544

This is an antique writing desk. An English, solid rosewood five-drawer study or side table, dating to the Regency period, circa 1820.

- Beautiful writing desk with wonderful carved detail
- Displays a desirable aged patina
- Select rosewood shows fine grain interest
- Deep, rich russet hues to the wax polish finish
- Broad, solid rosewood writing surface with a hand-carved pie crust edge
- Suite of five drawers arranged as two pairs and a larger central drawer
- Dressed with flat domed wooden pulls and finished with cockbeading
- Inset brass lock escutcheon to central drawer — key absent
- Stout shoulders testament to the craftsmanship of this piece
- Shaped front apron decorated with a pair of inset shell carvings
- Raised upon wonderful reeded, tapering legs and standing on tall turnip feet

Search London Fine for #18.6544 , or scan the QR code for more photos and details

DIMENSIONS

Max Width: 135cm (53.25")
Max Depth: 68.5cm (27")
Max Height: 80cm (31.5")
Kneehole Width: 61cm (24")

LIST PRICE

£2,850.00

