

Vintage Draughtsman's Instrument Set, Drawing, Navigation, Henry Hughes And Son

DESCRIPTION

Our Stock # 18.6603

This is a vintage draughtsman's instrument set. An English, brass drawing or navigation tool compendium by Henry Hughes & Son, dating to the mid 20th century, circa 1940.

- Pleasingly presented instrument set
- Displays a desirable aged patina
- Brass instruments in good order
- Velvet lined tray hosts a set of seven instruments
- Lifts out to reveal a parallel drafting rule
- Engraved with the H. Hughes & Son Ltd maker's mark
- Compass bears the serial number 13256 and the Pheon 'broad arrow'
- Mahogany carry case shows good colour to the wax polish finish
- Finished with an unmarked nameplate to lid
- Dressed with distinctive inset shield lock escutcheon – key absent

Search London Fine for #18.6603, or scan the QR code for more photos and details

DIMENSIONS

Max Width: 19cm (7.5")
 Max Depth: 11cm (4.25")
 Max Height: 4cm (1.5")

