

Pair Of Antique Decorative Fire Rests, Wrought Iron Fireside Andirons, Victorian

DESCRIPTION

Our Stock # 18.6846

This is a pair of antique decorative fire rests. An English, wrought iron fireside andiron, dating to the late Victorian period, circa 1900.

- Eye-catching fireside tool rests
- Displaying a desirable aged patina
- Wrought iron offers a pleasingly heavy weight
- Baluster supports with gadrooned detail
- Wonderfully dark polished tones
- Standing upon flat trestle feet to the front, with a keyhole-shaped rear support

This is a charming and attractive pair of antique decorative fire rests, well suited to resting fireside tools down upon them or presenting a fire basket. Delivered polished and ready for the fire place.

Search London Fine for #18.6846 , or scan the QR code for more photos and details

DIMENSIONS

Max Width: 29cm (11.5")

Max Depth: 28.5cm (11.25")

Max Height: 43.5cm (17.25")

