

Antique Fire Companion, English, Steel, Knight, Fireside Tools, Victorian, 1900

DESCRIPTION

Our Stock # 18.6942

This is an antique fire companion. An English, steel medieval knight with a set of fireside tools, dating to the late Victorian period, circa 1900.

- A noble and highly appealing piece
- Displays a desirable aged patina
- Graphite-finished steel shows fine antique weathering
- Highly detailed figure with impressive medieval armour
- Held aloft, the poker with decorative crummet toaster
- Hearth brush and a pair of tongs sit neatly within the reverse of the knight
 - Standing at close to a metre tall with poker, the knight himself is 66cm (26") in height
- Presented upon a tiered, square plinth base

This is a superb antique fire companion, offering character and noble charm to the fireplace. Delivered polished and ready for the warmth of the fireside.

Search London Fine for #18.6942, or scan the QR code for more photos and details

DIMENSIONS

Max Width: 27cm (10.75")

Max Depth: 16.5cm (6.5")

Max Height: 96.5cm (38")

Knight Height: 66cm (26")

