

Antique Boot Scraper, English, Pull, Coalbrookdale, Art Nouveau, Circa 1890

DESCRIPTION

Our Stock # 18.6964

This is an antique boot scraper. An English, cast iron pull by Coalbrookdale in Art Nouveau taste, dating to the late Victorian period, circa 1890.

- Dashing elegance for the entrance door
- Displays a desirable aged patina
- Cast iron in superb order
- Wonderfully finished in graphite with rich grey hues
- The useful boot scrape presented atop a scrolled vine support
- Dish base with gently rising ends, decorated with eye-catching leaf detail
- Bolt-in type with four mounting holes to the base - could be fixed down if required
- Bears the Coalbrookdale maker's mark to the reverse with the serial number 19976

This is an attractive and highly appealing antique boot scraper, from the famous foundry of Coalbrookdale and finished in the desirable Art Nouveau taste. Offering the same practical benefits today, this antique scrape will add a touch of elegance to the doorway. Delivered polished and ready for use.

Search London Fine for #18.6964, or scan the QR code for more photos and details

DIMENSIONS

Max Width: 41cm (16.25")
 Max Depth: 27.5cm (10.75")
 Max Height: 18cm (7")
 Scrape Width: 10.5cm (4.25")

LIST PRICE

£585.00

