

Antique, Curlew, Oriental, Bronze, Mahogany, Decorative, Small Bird, Circa 1900

DESCRIPTION

Our Stock # 18.7012

This is an antique study of a curlew. An Oriental, bronze and mahogany decorative small bird, dating to the late 19th century, circa 1900.

- The bird sculpted in a sunbathing pose with wings raised
- Displays a desirable aged patina
- Curlew in bronze shows fine plumage detail
- Mahogany shows medium caramel hues and attractive grain interest
- With wings raised, the long, slender beak arched gently across its back
- From the ruffled neck to the wing tips, the feather detail catches the eye
- Offers a pleasing weight of 1.8kg (3.96lb)
- Carved details to the plinth with a scrolled river effect adding a sense of motion
- The side decorated with a Greek key pattern and raised on four shaped feet
- Small, paper maker's mark to base

Search London Fine for #18.7012 , or scan the QR code for more photos and details

DIMENSIONS

Max Width: 15cm (6")
Max Depth: 23.5cm (9.25")
Max Height: 14cm (5.5")

LIST PRICE

£2,850.00

