

Very Large 13' Antique Serapi Carpet, Persian Rug, Heriz Region, Victorian, 1900

DESCRIPTION

Our Stock # 18.7002

This is a very large antique Serapi carpet. A Persian, woven room-sized rug from the Heriz region and sought after for interior design, dating to the late Victorian period, circa 1900.

- Of impressive size and beautiful hand-woven appeal
- Displaying a desirable aged patina with some underfoot wear to one end
 - The hand-crafted, finely knotted Serapi carpets of North Western Persia display striking colour
 - Large central medallion with motif to each corner a hallmark of this region
 - The ground in warm, inviting vermillion
 - Geometric, stylised central medallion here in a palette of crimson, light green and dark blue
- Foliate border with a navy blue ground, upon which red and gold add contrast
- The reverse a testament to how well the whole has held colour for over a century
- Furniture situated at one end has lead to some wear, leaving the opposite side in very good order
 - Of room size at 13' by 10' this carpet holds appeal to interior designers and set dressers
