This is an antique headmaster's office bookcase. An English, oak cabinet, dating to the Edwardian period, circa 1910.

- Attractive carved forms and wood grains
- Displaying a desirable aged patina - in good order throughout
- Select oak offers fine grain interest and rich colour
- Wisps of medullary rays shine beneath the wax polish finish
- Shallow tiered top surface sitting above the whole
- Carved sash apron fascinates ahead of the upper display space
- Arranged as a pair of generously sized book shelves
- Field panel doors to base open to reveal a concealed third shelf
- Panel borders decorated with a distinctive carved beading
- Small, inset brass lined lock – key absent
- Terminating in a continuous plinth base with rakish profile
