

Antique Condiment Serving Set, English, Silver Plate, Table, Ashbury, Edwardian

DESCRIPTION

Our Stock # 18.7220

This is an antique condiment serving set. An English, silver plated table rack by Philip Ashbury and Sons of Sheffield, dating to the Edwardian period, circa 1910.

- Attractive 5 piece condiments set for the dinner table
 - Displays a desirable aged patina with very light historical marks under close inspection, consistent with careful use
- Silver plate offers a bright, quality appearance
- Monogrammed shield to the front with ornate cursive initials for 'HH'
- 5 compartments for placement of each of the condiments vessels
- Each is resplendent in quality, diamond pattern glass with silver plated collars
- Salt and pepper shakers with delicate pierced lids
- Two spirit vessels with matching cut glass stoppers
- Condiment caddy with silver plated spoon, held in place by a pleasing hinged lid
- The spoon hallmarked with WP inside a diamond and L for London
- Hallmarks to base of rack read 'PA & SS' with serial number, for Philip Ashbury and Sons of Sheffield

Search London Fine for #18.7220, or scan the QR code for more photos and details

DIMENSIONS

- Max Width: 18cm (7")
- Max Depth: 14.5cm (5.75")
- Max Height: 21.5cm (8.5")
- Condiment Pot Width: 5cm (2")
- Condiment Pot Depth: 5cm (2")
- Condiment Pot Height: 13.5cm (5.25") - To Spoon
- Shaker Width: 5cm (2")
- Shaker Depth: 5cm (2")
- Shaker Height: 14cm (5.25")
- Spirit Vessel Width: 5cm (2")
- Spirit Vessel Depth: 5cm (2")
- Spirit Vessel Height: 14.5cm (5.75")

