

Antique Decorative Planter, English, Ceramic, Jardiniere, Bowl, Edwardian, 1910

DESCRIPTION

Our Stock # 18.7278

This is an ornate antique decorative planter. An English, ceramic jardiniere or bowl, dating to the Edwardian period, circa 1910.

- Elaborate painted detail draws the eye
- Displaying a desirable aged patina - characterful crazing beneath the glaze
- Ceramic in good order and free of marks or loss
- Dark blue painted rim gives way to a deep brown body
- Gold embellishments applied to the body provide warm highlights
- Sinuous scrolled handles with foliate motif and beaded detail
  - Large classical scenes adorn the front and rear fascia - light-hearted and highly detailed
- Incidental foliate decorations provide further visual interest
- Maker's mark to base for A.G. Harley Jones of Staffordshire

This is an appealing antique decorative planter, generously sized for the hall or lounge. Delivered polished and ready to fill.

Search London Fine for #18.7278 , or scan the QR code for more photos and details

DIMENSIONS

Max Width: 31.5cm (12.5")

Max Depth: 24.5cm (9.75")

Max Height: 20cm (7.75")

