

Antique Jardiniere On Stand, English, Ceramic, Decorative Planter, Victorian

DESCRIPTION

Our Stock # 18.7413

This is an antique jardiniere on stand. An English, ceramic decorative planter with ornamental column, dating to the Victorian period, circa 1880.

- Rich in colour and with classical and Renaissance overtones
- Displaying a desirable aged patina - one fine firing crack to rim observed under close inspection
- White ceramic base with light blue wash beneath a quality glaze
- Gilt flourishes to the rim and handles add an attractive contrast
- Of bulb form, the serpentine foliate rim sits above the generously sized planter
- Bouquets of detailed flowers adorn the fascia in a palette of pink hues
- Ornate handles with scrolling forms terminate in expressive leaf motif
- Mark to base reads 'Athens' likely the pattern mark of Davenport, Staffordshire
- Attractive column stand with classical taste offers a surface diameter of 25cm (9.75")
- Continuing the decor of the planter, the column decorated with chased leaf patterns and gilt touches
- Presenting a tapering profile with deeply reeded form

Search London Fine for #18.7413 , or scan the QR code for more photos and details

DIMENSIONS

- Max Width: 44.5cm (17.5")
- Max Depth: 36cm (14.25")
- Max Height: 94cm (37")
- Pot Width: 44cm (17.25")
- Pot Depth: 36cm (14.25")
- Pot Height: 26.5cm (10.5")
- Opening Diameter: 29cm (11.5")
- Stand Width: 28.5cm (11.25")
- Stand Depth: 28.5cm (11.25")
- Stand Height: 68cm (26.75")
- Top Diameter: 25cm (9.75")

