

Antique Fender Seat, English, Brass, Leather, Fireside Bench, Victorian, C.1880

DESCRIPTION

Our Stock # 18.7556

This is an antique fender seat. An English, brass and leather fireside bench, dating to the Victorian period, circa 1880.

- Captivating Industrial Revolution overtones to this classic club fender
- Displaying a desirable aged patina and in good order
- Arranged as two seats over a striking frame redolent of a Brunel bridge span
- Brass pillars and fire kerb show dark golden hues
- Deeply buttoned, leather upholstered cushions offer a comfortable seating position
- Tiered fire kerb with generous proportion to the interior for the larger fireplace

This is a fascinating antique fender seat, classically appealing and of unusual form. Ideal for the larger home or club lounge. Delivered polished and ready for the fireside.

Search London Fine for #18.7556 , or scan the QR code for more photos and details

DIMENSIONS

Max Width: 186cm (73.25")

Max Depth: 31cm (12.25")

Max Height: 48cm (19")

Internal Width: 160cm (63")

Internal Depth: 14cm (5.5")

