

Antique Writing Desk, Oak, Green Man, Scottish, Table, Circa 1890

DESCRIPTION

Our Stock # AAU-3485

This is an antique writing desk, an oak, green man, Scottish table dating to circa 1890.

- Delightfully carved all round, ideal for centre room placement
- Appealing russet tones to the oak with a wax polished finish
- Inset, Oxford green, tooled skiver highlighted in gold
- Foliate carved interest to the top's edge moulding
- Offering a suite of drawers around a bracketed knee hole
- The frieze drawer with green man mask and oak leaf and acorn detail
- To the left a pair of drawers, the upper locking, the lower with a turned pull
- To the right a double depth drawer with working lock and key
- Opens to reveal to the rear – a desk extension slide with drawer beneath
- To the fore, a four compartment stationery tray with storage beneath
- The end panels feature a classically decorated garland and frame

Search London Fine for #AAU-3485 or scan the QR code for more photos and details

DIMENSIONS

Max Width: 144cm (56.75")

Max Depth: 74cm (29.25")

Max Height: 77cm (30.25")

