

Antique Display Case, English, Bijouterie Table, Showcase, Edwardian, Circa 1910

DESCRIPTION

Our Stock # 18.8034

This is an antique display case. An English, mahogany bijouterie table, dating to the Edwardian period, circa 1910.

- Pleasingly bright display cabinet, ideal for central room placement
- Displaying a desirable aged patina and in good order
- Select stocks present deep russet hues beneath a wax polish finish
- Top surface accentuated with a discrete decorative border in rich saffron yellow
- Fully glazed case affords bright viewing from any angle
- Drop flap front door held securely by inset working lock — key present
- Single glass shelf can be removed to maximise the display area if required
- Dressed interior with a quality silk cotton fabric with foliate pattern
- Shaped bracket corners meet the shallow apron to each fascia
- Raised upon a quartet of slender, gently tapering legs with pad feet

Search London Fine for #18.8034, or scan the QR code for more photos and details

DIMENSIONS

Max Width: 58cm (22.75")
Max Depth: 33.5cm (13.25")
Max Height: 74.5cm (29.25")
Shelf Width: 51.5cm (20.25")
Shelf Depth: 25.5cm (10")
Above Shelf Height: 16.5cm (6.5")
Below Shelf Height: 14.5cm (5.75")

