

Large Vintage 3 Seat Sofa, Brazilian, Leather, Settee, Jean Gillon, Probel, 1970

DESCRIPTION

Our Stock # 18.8650

This is a large vintage 3 seat sofa. A Brazilian, leather and Imbuia lounge settee designed by Jean Gillon for Probel, dating to the mid 20th century, circa 1970.

- Exceptional mid-20th century lounge sofa, graced with designer appeal and superb quality
- Displaying a desirable aged patina and in very good order throughout
- Soft, fine grain leather exudes quality, with minimal ageing and a tasteful, deep chestnut colour
- Striking Imbuia wood frame shows fine grain interest and deep caramel hues
- Highly distinctive frame with large pegged joints across a generous, wide profile
- At 6' wide from padded arm to arm, each of the three cushions offers a spacious, relaxing seat
- Deeply buttoned with double stitched cushions, the low-back, long-thigh form offers desirable comfort
- Fascinating natural hides suspended from front to rear provide support for the leather cushions
- The saddle cushioned arms are generously wide and intersect the frame with a demi-lune flourish
