

Antique Butter Dish, English, Country House, Kitchen, Cheese Keeper, Edwardian

DESCRIPTION

Our Stock # 18.8701

This is an antique butter dish. An English, oak and silver plate country house kitchen cheese keeper, dating to the Edwardian period, circa 1910.

- Strikingly attractive appearance with fine contrast between the materials
- Displays a desirable aged patina and in good order
- Select oak stocks show fine grain interest and warm caramel hues
- Quality silver plate presents a bright, reflective finish
- Distinctive lid with panelled finish, dressed with a shaped handle
- Bright white ceramic butter dish, removable and in very good condition
- Unmarked shield plaque adorns the front fascia
- Pair of prominent carry handles aid ease of moving from the kitchen to the table

This is a charming antique butter dish, with a superb appearance and pleasingly tactile finish. A treat for the countertop or breakfast table. Delivered waxed, polished and ready to serve.
