

Large 8'6" Antique London Triptych Map, English, Framed, Cartography, Victorian

DESCRIPTION

Our Stock # 18.8707

This is a large antique London triptych map. An English, framed parchment city plan, dating to the late Victorian period, circa 1880.

- Fascinating in size and detail, with a view of London during the William IV period
- Displays a desirable aged patina and in good order
- Each engraving plate segmented and pasted on linen in the Victorian era
- When butted together, the whole is an impressive 2.64m in width
- Covers a wide area of London and its boroughs, as surveyed in 1832
- Skilfully printed by George Frederick Cruchley on a quality linen backing
 - Engravings recreated from the Grand Trigonometrical Survey of England by the Board of Ordnance

Board of Ordnance

- Keyed at a scale of half a mile, with 1 inch equating to a Furlong (8th of a mile)
- Familiar landmarks including Tower of London, Hyde Park and Westminster
- Fine detail to individual streets, parks, institutions and commercial services
- The River Thames winds its way through the map, with light blue colouration
