

Antique Extending Dining Table, English, Oak, 6-8 Seat, Country House, Edwardian

DESCRIPTION

Our Stock # 18.6612

This is a large antique extending dining table. An English, oak 6-8 seat table of country house proportion, dating to the Edwardian period, circa 1910.

- Accommodate your friends and family around this generously sized table
- Displays a desirable aged patina and in very good order
- Oak stocks present fine grain interest and wisps of medullary rays
- Warm caramel hues bask beneath a quality wax polish finish
- Traditional refectory style, with fascinating pegged joint construction
- Pair of extending leaves, sliding outwards from beneath the lift-up top
- Striking carved cups adorn the supports beneath decorative aprons
- Stout trestle feet united with a broad, shaped stretcher rail

This is a delightful antique extending dining table, with wonderful colour and figuring. Extending with ease to comfortably accommodate eight guests. Solid joints and construction, delivered waxed, polished and ready for the home.
