

4' Long Antique Telescope, English, Silvered Brass, Dennis of London, Victorian

DESCRIPTION

Our Stock # 18.8244

This is a long antique telescope. An English, silvered brass single draw refractor by Dennis of London, dating to the early Victorian period and later, circa 1850.

Perfect for bird watching, landscape appreciation, wildlife, or maritime observation. Equally suitable for observing the night sky.

- Superior length telescope with appealing finish and personal inscription
- Displaying a desirable aged patina throughout
- Silvered brass presents bright, reflective tones
- Bright objective with large 55mm diameter – some marks to lens edge
- Front element protected by sliding sun shade
- Removable dust cover encloses the element when not in use
- Primary barrel dressed distinctively in a later, quality faux crocodile cover
- Flared eye-cup to rear, the sliding dust cover absent
- The single draw tube engraved 'Dennis - 122 Bishopsgate St - London'
- Personalised from a George John Malcolm to an Arthur Phillpotts

Search London Fine for #18.8244, or scan the QR code for more photos and details

DIMENSIONS

Closed Length: 105cm (41.25")

Fully Drawn Length: 126cm (49.5")

Objective Lens Diameter: 55mm (2.25")

LIST PRICE

£895.00

