

Antique Campaign Correspondence Box, Indian, Colonial Writing Case, Victorian

DESCRIPTION

Our Stock # 18.9173

This is an antique campaign correspondence box. An Anglo-Indian, teak and brass bound Colonial traveller's writing case, dating to the late Victorian period, circa 1880.

- Captivatingly appointed interior, set within a quality bound case
- Displays a desirable aged patina, commensurate with careful use
- Teak stocks present fine grain interest and rich caramel hues
- Flourishes of golden tones from the extensive brass bounding
  - Lid opens to reveal a fully-featured interior, replete with letter rack and compartments
- Trio of articulated slides to centre create an inset platform, ahead of lift out trays
- Dressed with a distinctive brass lock escutcheon — untested, key absent
- Stout carry handles in the campaign manner, with shaped drop handles on diamond mounts

This is a fascinating antique campaign correspondence box, with a comprehensive fitted interior of surprise and delight features. As useful today as it was nearly 150 years ago and exuding decorative collector appeal. Solid joints and construction, delivered waxed, polished and ready to enjoy
