

Antique Oil Ewer, Italian, Bronze, Grand Tour Serving Jug, Victorian, Circa 1850

DESCRIPTION

Our Stock # 18.9248

This is an antique oil ewer. An Italian, bronze Grand Tour serving jug on stand with Renaissance revival taste, dating to the early Victorian period, circa 1850.

- Highly decorative ewer presents Bacchanalian motif
- Displays a desirable aged patina throughout
- Lightly weathered bronze presents deep grey hues
- Enthusiastically adorned with relief detail, for a distinctive appearance
- Tall, slender ewer graced with a steep flared rim and sinuous handle
- Frieze to body presents Bacchus scenes in relief, bordered by ornate scrolled details
- Standing upon a wide, supportive platter, the central medallion hosts more figural relief characters
- Rim of platter accentuated with a wide floral border with narrow band to centre

This is a striking antique oil ewer, with appealing Grand Tour charm. Superb weight in the hand and pleasingly ornate. Delivered polished and ready to grace the table.

Search London Fine for #18.9248 , or scan the QR code for more photos and details

DIMENSIONS

Max Width: 25.5cm (10")
 Max Depth: 25.5cm (10")
 Max Height: 29cm (11.5")
 Ewer Width: 9cm (3.5")
 Ewer Depth: 12.5cm (5")
 Ewer Height: 28cm (11")
 Plate Diameter: 25.5cm (10")
 Plate Height: 1.5cm (.5")
 Weight: 3.55kg (7.82 lb)

