

Heavy Antique Chemist's Mortar, English, Cast Iron, Decorative Planter, Georgian

DESCRIPTION

Our Stock # 18.9335

This is a heavy antique chemist's mortar. An English, cast iron decorative planter pot, dating to the mid Georgian period, circa 1750.

- Fascinatingly weathered Georgian mortar
- Displaying a desirable aged patina throughout
- Substantial cast iron presents dark graphite hues
- Perfect as a planter, with an internal diameter of 10cm (4")
- Pleasingly heavy in the hand with a weight of 7.47kg (16.46 lb)

This is a superb, heavy antique chemist's mortar, with a striking early industrial finish. Delivered polished and ready to display.
