

Pair Of Antique Hall Chairs, Scottish, Oak, Seat, Arts & Crafts Taste, Victorian

DESCRIPTION

Our Stock # 18.9367

This is a pair of antique hall chairs. A Scottish, oak seat in Arts & Crafts taste, dating to the late Victorian period, circa 1890.

- Striking and exceptional, a treat for the grandest of reception halls
- Displaying a desirable aged patina and in very good order
- Quality quarter-sawn oak presents fine grain interest with wisps of medullary rays
- Superb caramel hues radiate from beneath a quality wax polish finish
- Highly distinctive shaped seat backs exude master craftsmanship
- Demi-lune upper rail with rolled edge and carved border decoration
- Shield form with a carved arm holding a sea shell over a pierced quarterfoil
- Over the open back splat, a pair of foliate patera in the Gothic manner
- Wide, flat seat squab set at a comfortable height of 45cm (17.75")
- Sash shaped aprons framed within prominent block shoulders
- Skilfully crafted front legs boast bulb carvings over tapering octagonal legs with bun feet feet

Search London Fine for #18.9367, or scan the QR code for more photos and details

DIMENSIONS

Max Width: 44cm (17.25")
 Max Depth: 42.5cm (16.75")
 Max Height: 89.5cm (35.25")
 Seat Width: 42cm (16.5")
 Seat Depth: 35cm (13.75")
 Seat Height: 45cm (17.75")

