

Antique Artist's Paint Box, English, Carry Case, Winsor & Newton, Late Victorian

DESCRIPTION

Our Stock # 18.9350

This is an antique artist's paint box. An English, mahogany and ebony carry case by Winsor & Description of London, dating to the late Victorian period, circa 1890.

- Superb artist's box from a renowned London paint specialist
- Displays a desirable aged patina and remnants of media commensurate with use
- Select stocks present fine grain interest and warm caramel hues throughout
- Quality ceramic accessories display crisp white hues
- Tasteful ebony stringing accentuates the lid edge
- \bullet Dressed to the fascia with a brass circular lock escutcheon in working order, key present
 - Useful interior arrangement of removable compartments over a lower sliding tray
- Pair of lift-out paint trays annotated with hand written colour names, each hosts 9 hues
 - Charming Winsor and Newton ceramic mixing slab with maker's mark to reverse
 - Lower tray held in place with a pin, opens to reveal a James Newman palette
- \bullet Lid interior dressed with a gold tooled maker's mark for Winsor & Newton, London

DIMENSIONS

Max Width: 24.5cm (9.75") Max Depth: 21.5cm (8.5") Max Height: 8.5cm (3.25")

Ceramic Palette Width: 19.5cm (7.75") Ceramic Palette Depth: 15.5cm (6")

LIST PRICE

£1,295.00

Search London Fine for #TX 955U for scan the UK code for more photos and detail