

Antique London Townhouse Boot Scraper, English, Doorway Shoe Pull, Georgian

DESCRIPTION

Our Stock # 18.9415

This is an antique London townhouse boot scraper. An English, cast iron doorway shoe pull, dating to the Georgian period, circa 1750.

- Pleasingly ornate, early Georgian period scrape
- Displays a desirable aged patina and in good order
- Cast iron in good order with a consistent graphite finish throughout
- Reassuringly robust with a weight of 6.34kg (13.97 lb)
- Suitable for use within the entrance hall or besides the front door
- Boot scrape presented between a pair of decorative supports
- Offering a useful scrape width of 11cm (4.25"), the scrolled ends doubling as a boot pull
- Flared edge to dish with attractive continuous pattern, with a pair of mounting holes to base

This is an appealing antique London townhouse boot scraper. Attractive, practical and as useful today as it was 200 years ago. Delivered polished and ready for the entrance way.
