

Antique Book, The Coaching Age, Stanley Harris, English, Hard Bound, Victorian

DESCRIPTION

Our Stock # 18.9729

This is an antique reference book, The Coaching age by Stanley Harris. An English language, hard bound non-fiction title, dating to the Victorian period, dated 1888.

Fascinating account of Victorian transport before the proliferation of the train as a means of traversing the United Kingdom. The author Stanley Harris calls on his own experiences as a carriage driver to provide a delightful overview and illustrated by a fellow called John Sturgess.

- The Coaching Age - Stanley Harris 1888, London; 468 pages
- Presents well, with intact pages and minimal coloration
- Hard bound in a tasteful cobalt blue cotton and gilt titling
- Cover features a gold colour seal in the manner of a coaching token
- Superb sepia-toned illustrations provide great detail
- Replete with hand-written addenda to last page

This is a delightful antique book offering a great insight into the age of coaching from the perspective of an experienced carriage driver. Delivered ready to enjoy.

Search London Fine for #18.9729 , or scan the QR code for more photos and details

DIMENSIONS

Max Width: 15.5cm (6")

Max Depth: 4cm (1.5")

Max Height: 23cm (9")

LIST PRICE

£395.00

