

Vintage Secretary's Desk, Danish, Narrow Office Table, Sibast Mobil, Circa 1970

DESCRIPTION

Our Stock # 18.9851

This is a vintage secretary's desk. A Danish, rosewood narrow office table by Sibast Mobil, dating to the late 20th century, circa 1970.

Sibast Mobil was founded by Helge Sibast (1908 - 1985) a Danish craftsman with an eye for mixing tradition and international influence. A creative designer, he was installed as the head of design and product development at the family company at the time of his father's passing. Collaborating with fellow designer Arne Vodder in the 1960s, the company had a lot of export success to the United States and later worked with other designers on special collections.

- Appealing Danish taste and with great colour, a treat for the office
- Displaying a desirable aged patina and presented in original, sun-kissed finish
- Select stocks show superb figuring to the desktop and base
- Striking colour presents warm russet and caramel hues throughout
 - Of useful size, the lower keyboard slide leaving the desktop free for screens and document trays
 - Pair of later pass-through ports offer a diameter of 50mm (2") - ideal for cable routing
 - Set upon a rail, the pullout keyboard slide extends gracefully from beneath t

DIMENSIONS

- Max Width: 135cm (53.25")
- Max Depth: 50cm (19.75")
- Max Height: 67.5cm (26.5")
- Keyboard Slide Width: 60cm (23.5")
- Keyboard Slide Depth: 33cm (13")
- Keyboard Slide Set Height: 59cm (23.25")

LIST PRICE

£895.00

