

Antique Cased Draughtsman's Set, English, Drawing Tools, WH Harling, Edwardian

DESCRIPTION

Our Stock # 18.9736

This is an antique cased draughtsman's set. An English, technical drawing case of silver nickel and brass tools by W.H. Harling, dating to the Edwardian period, circa 1910.

- Nicely presented instruments for the master draughtsman
- Displaying a desirable aged patina and in good order
- Quality instruments comprise of silver nickel and brass
- Offering a comprehensive selection of 21 pieces
- Appealing mahogany case shows fine grain interest and rich caramel hues
- Dressed with a small inset brass lined lock – key absent
- Lift-out tool tray presents the instruments against a violet coloured velvet lining
- Sets of compass, roller beam fittings and pointers with other accessories
- Maker's name to the interior for W.H. Harling of London
- Instruments also engraved with the Harling name
- Many pieces further engraved with the name of a former owner J.H. Rogers

Search London Fine for #18.9736 , or scan the QR code for more photos and details

DIMENSIONS

Max Width: 28cm (11")
 Max Depth: 16cm (6.25")
 Max Height: 5cm (2")

LIST PRICE

£895.00

