Antique Lithography Map, South America, English, Framed, Cartography, Victorian

DESCRIPTION

Our Stock # 18.9967

This is an antique lithography map of South America. An English, framed atlas engraving of cartographic interest by John Rapkin, dating to the early Victorian period and later, circa 1850.

John Rapkin was considered as one of the best map makers of the mid 19th century, working in conjunction with John Tallis to engrave maps for the Illustrated Atlas and Modern History of the World (1845-51).

• Quality lithography of South America and its constituent countries - ideal for display
• Displaying a desirable aged patina and in very good order
• Fascinating cartography, presented tastefully within quality, later frames
• Major locations, coloured borders and associated islands annotate the map
• Superb illustrations showcase local customs, places of interest and costumes
• Dressed to the rear with hanging cord for ease of mounting

This is a quality antique lithography map of South America, with fine cartographic interest. Delivered ready to display.
