

Antique Cabinet Maker's Drawing Book, Thomas Sheraton, English, Georgian, C.1812

DESCRIPTION

Our Stock # 24126

This is an antique copy of the Cabinet Maker's Drawing Book by Thomas Sheraton. An English, bound reference guide, dating to the Georgian period, published 1793.

Highly influential as a furniture designer, Thomas Sheraton (1751 - 1806) was an English luminary considered part of the 'Big 3' with contemporaries Thomas Chippendale and George Hepplewhite. Moving to London in the late 18th century, he took up teaching perspective and architecture, as well as cabinet making. Such subjects were published in this fascinating record that has influenced contemporary and revival furniture design ever since.

- Presented in time-worn, rebound condition - some minor losses present
- Bound in cloth and leather, the gold titling presented upon a red ground to the spine
