

Antique 3 Draw Telescope, English, Fruitwood, Brass, Henry Hughes, Victorian

DESCRIPTION

Our Stock # 24353

This is an antique 3 draw telescope. An English, fruitwood and brass terrestrial refractor by H. Hughes, dating to the early Victorian period, circa 1850.

Perfect for bird watching, landscape appreciation, wildlife, or maritime observation. Equally suitable for observing the night sky

- <li class="p1">Delightful early Victorian telescope from Henry Hughes of London
- <li class="p1">Displays a desirable aged patina and good original order
- <li class="p1">Polished brass barrels show light golden hues and minimal tarnishing
- <li class="p1">Fruitwood primary barrel shows fine grain interest and a rich caramel colour

<li class="p1">Of three draw type, drawing from a compact length of 18.5cm (7.25")

<li class="p1">When fully drawn, occupying a length of 55cm (21.75")

<li class="p1">Offers an objective diameter of 32mm (1.25")

<li class="p1">Eyepiece flared with turned rim detail and sliding dust cover

Search London Fine for #24353 , or scan the QR code for more photos and details

DIMENSIONS

Closed Length: 18.5cm (7.25")

Fully Drawn: 55cm (21.75")

Objective Diameter: 32mm (1.25")

Find out more about Henry Hughes here...

