

Antique Hand Decorated Cigarette Keeper, Indian, Brass, Tobacco Tin, Victorian

DESCRIPTION

Our Stock # 24647

This is an antique hand-decorated cigarette keeper. An Indian, brass tobacco tin with ash tray, dating to the late Victorian period, circa 1900.

- Appealing smoking interest, with a pleasingly naive decor
- Displays a desirable aged patina, lightly time worn throughout
- Cylindrical brass form presents warm golden tones
- Hand engraved throughout, with geographic and foliate detail
- Useful ashtray lid, with four rests recessed into the rim
- Opens to reveal a handy place for storing cigarettes or tobacco
- Fascinating Taj Mahal motif to the front fascia, located in Agra
- Reverse displays a map of the Indian sub continent and surrounding area

This is a charming antique hand-decorated cigarette keeper, with pleasing colour and fascinating engravings. Delivered ready to enjoy.

Search London Fine for #24647 , or scan the QR code for more photos and details

DIMENSIONS

Max Width: 8cm (3.25")
Max Depth: 8cm (3.25")
Max Height: 10cm (4")

LIST PRICE

£475.00

