

Antique Fireside Wing Back Armchair, English, Leather, Lounge Chair, Edwardian

DESCRIPTION

Our Stock # 24671

This is an antique fireside wing back armchair. An English, leather buttoned lounge chair dating to the Edwardian period, circa 1910.

- Traditional appeal to this charming fireside chair, with deep proportion
- Displays a desirable, lightly time worn patina from careful use
- Gently aged crimson leather with a deeply buttoned finish
- Comfortably stuffed in the classic manner, offering an inviting place to rest
- Classic wing back form with pronounced ears, ideal for keeping the fireside heat at bay
- Superb Chesterfield-style back with diamond pleats to back and broad wings
- Tall, rolled arms ensconce in a delightful manner, accentuated with press stud trimming
- Raised upon a quartet of square section legs, gently splayed to rear and crafted from beech

This is a delightful antique fireside wing back armchair, with pleasing colour and an inviting classic form. Perfect for the fireside or reading nook. Solid joints and construction, delivered ready for the home.
