

Antique Water Bucket, Burmese, Silvered Copper, Fireside Store, Georgian, C.1800

DESCRIPTION

Our Stock # 24636

This is an antique water bucket. A Burmese, silvered copper fireside store, dating to the Georgian period, circa 1800.

- Eye-catchingly weathered appearance with a fascinating decorative finish
- Displays a desirable aged patina, commensurate with age and use
- Hand crafted from silvered copper, with remnants of verdigris and amber hues
- Distinctive 'elephant foot' form with wide lower bowl
- Tactile, engraved handle articulates within broad, bonded mounts
- Rim edge and body accentuated with chased pattern detail to their circumference
- Ornate medallions present animal characters upon etched leaf backgrounds
- Well suited for use as a distinctive fireside store, suitable for all fuel types

This is a delightfully patinated antique water bucket, offering an appealing opportunity as a coal or log bucket or waste paper basket. Delivered ready for the home.
